

Remote Learning Schedules: Grades 6-8

CCSD59 will provide continuity of instruction for students through our Remote Learning Plan. ISBE has now provided guidance to school districts related to Remote Learning, and we are in the process of adjusting our approach. Some of the major elements of the ISBE guidance are:

- Remote Learning plans should provide opportunities for continued learning that focuses on critical standards of the grade level or subject, with an emphasis on promoting review, mastery, and extension of previously taught skills and concepts.
- Remote Learning Plans should help students and families set and maintain routines and structures and ensure that they stay connected to schools and learning.
- Districts should prioritize the mental well-being of students and try to support them socially, emotionally, and academically.
- Districts should ensure that daily learning activities require students to engage in learning for age-appropriate durations, with additional optional enrichment opportunities being provided for those who wish to go beyond.
- Please refer to the Weekly Schedules and Helpful Resources below.

Additional Information

- This daily schedule was created mainly to help students from being overburdened with having every subject every day and to help them streamline and organize their remote learning time. If a child is not able to complete the lesson during the designated time, then the child should complete it at their earliest opportunity and will not be penalized.
- When a subject area is scheduled for a given day, the lessons will be posted/shared between 8:00 a.m. and the designated start time of the subject.
- Remote learning is challenging both for families and for our staff. If a teacher needs to adjust their availability for feedback or office hours for any reason, they will communicate that to students.
- If teachers are planning a Google Meet or some other type of “live” instruction, it will be scheduled within the designated time frame for that subject and will be communicated to students/families.
- On days when a particular subject area does not have an official lesson, teachers will still be available at points throughout the day to review submitted work, answer questions & provide support/feedback.
- Families will notice that we are continuing our Wednesday afternoon professional learning time. This time will be critical for our staff so they can continue planning, collaborating, and receiving training on remote learning tools.
